

Welcome to the Fontana Nature Trail

The Fontana Park Nature Trail takes you through a community of mixed hardwood forest. A variety of trees, plants, and animals make this area their home. As you wind through the forest, walk quietly and listen to the sounds, take time to smell the flowers or fallen leaves, touch a tree trunk, and be observant for wildlife and hidden natural treasures. Use all your senses and enjoy your visit.

Picking plants and wildflowers is not allowed, but non-commercial berry picking, mushroom hunting, and nut-gathering are permitted.
